

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

All that you have done to us, O Lord, you have done with true judgement, for we have sinned against you and not obeyed your commandments.
But give glory to your name and deal with us according to the bounty of your mercy.

GLORIA

Glory to God in the highest,
and on earth peace to people of good will.

We praise you,
we bless you,
we adore you,
we glorify you,
we give you thanks for your great glory,
Lord God, heavenly King,
O God, almighty Father.

Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
you take away the sins of the world,
have mercy on us;
you take away the sins of the world,
receive our prayer;
you are seated at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy on us.

For you alone are the Holy One,
you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ,
with the Holy Spirit,
in the glory of God the Father.
Amen.

COLLECT

O God, who manifest your almighty power above all by pardoning and showing mercy, bestow, we pray, your grace abundantly upon us
and make those hastening to attain your promises
heirs to the treasures of heaven.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, for ever and ever.
Amen.

FIRST READING

Numbers 11:25-29

A reading from the book of Numbers.

The Lord came down in the Cloud. He spoke with Moses, but took some of the spirit that was on him and put it on the seventy elders. When the spirit came on them they prophesied, but not again.

Two men had stayed back in the camp;
one was called Eldad and the other Medad.
The spirit came down on them; though they had not gone to the Tent, their names were enrolled among the rest. These began to prophecy in the camp. The young man ran to tell this to Moses, "Look," he said, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp." Then said Joshua the son of Nun, who had served Moses from his youth, "My Lord Moses, stop them!" Moses answered him, "Are you jealous on my account? If only the whole people of the Lord were prophets, and the Lord gave his Spirit to them all!"

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

PSALM

Psalm 18

Response:

The precepts of the Lord gladden the heart.

1. The law of the Lord is perfect, it revives the soul.
The rule of the Lord is to be trusted, it gives wisdom to the simple. (R.) 2. The fear of the Lord is holy, abiding for ever.
The decrees of the Lord are truth and all of them just. (R.) 3. So in them your servant finds instruction; great reward is in their keeping.
But who can detect all his errors?
From hidden faults acquit me. (R.)
4. From presumption restrain your servant and let it not rule me.
Then shall I be blameless, clean from grave sin. (R.)

SECOND READING

James 5:1-6

A reading from the letter of St James.

An answer for the rich. Start crying, weep for the miseries that are coming to you. Your wealth is all rotting, your clothes are all eaten up by moths. All your gold and your silver are corroding away, and the same corrosion will be your own sentence, and eat into your body. It was a burning fire that you stored up as your treasure for the last days. Labourers mowed your fields and you cheated them – listen to the wages that you kept back, calling out; realise that the cries of the reapers have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. On earth you have had a life of comfort and luxury; in the time of slaughter you went on eating to your heart's content. It was you who condemned the innocent and killed them;
they offered you no resistance.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!

Your word is truth, O Lord, consecrate us in the truth.
Alleluia.

GOSPEL

Mark 9:38-43.45.47-48

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark.

John said to Jesus, "Master, we saw a man who is not one of us casting out devils in your name; and because he was not one of us we tried to stop him." But Jesus said, "You must not stop him: no one who works a miracle in my name is likely to speak evil of me. Anyone who is not against us is for us.

"If anyone gives you a cup of water to drink just because you belong to Christ, then I tell you solemnly, he will most certainly not lose his reward.

"But anyone who is an obstacle to bring down one of these little ones who have faith, would be better thrown into the sea with a great millstone round his neck. And if your hand should cause you to sin, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life crippled, than to have two hands and go to hell, into the fire that cannot be put out. And if your foot should cause you to sin, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life lame, than to have two feet and be thrown into hell. And if your eye should cause you to sin, tear it out; it is better for you to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than to have two eyes and be thrown into hell where their worm does not die nor their fire go out."

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

(all bow during the next three lines) and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,

and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord,
the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins
and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead
and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OFFERINGS

Grant us, O merciful God, that this our offering may find acceptance with you
and that through it the wellspring of all blessing
may be laid open before us.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

Remember your word to your servant,
O Lord,
by which you have given me hope.
This is my comfort when I am brought low.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

May this heavenly mystery, O Lord, restore us in mind and body,
that we may be coheirs in glory with Christ, to whose suffering we are united whenever we proclaim his Death.
Who lives and reigns for ever and ever.
Amen.

Printed image of Jesus preaching to the crowd, in Grace Church Chiangmai, Thailand

Today's Gospel reading first presents us with two examples of Jesus' attitude towards people who do not belong to the circle of his disciples.

We might describe Jesus as being positively tolerant of the exorcist who was using his name, and therefore his power, to cast out devils without being authorised beforehand. We might note that the person concerned was actually able to perform this act of power; the name of Jesus was sufficient to bring about the desired result. The disciples, however, take a different view: the person has no business using the name of Jesus as he is "not one of us". They are jealous of their own privileges and try to stop him. The detail that the exorcist was actually successful does not seem to matter to them at all, despite the fact that they themselves had been unable to perform a similar feat a short time before.

The second case, that of strangers who are kind to the disciples "in the name of Christ", echoes the earlier teaching about welcoming Christ in the little child who represents the social 'nobodies'.

The final section is concerned with discipleship. Anyone who puts a block in front of a simple believer and causes them to fall away or into sin is condemned in the strongest terms. The "little ones" are those genuine but vulnerable members of the community. The sayings about cutting off parts of the body which lead disciples into sin are examples of the exaggeration customarily used at the time to emphasise the gravity of a situation and are not to be taken literally. However, we find the image of the body used elsewhere to represent the Christian (and civil) community, so cutting off the offending members of the physical body may also mean dealing severely with people who harm the body of believers by excommunicating them – as a last resort, of course. ■

LEARN

'Hell' (or Gehenna) originally referred to the Hinnon Valley which ran south and west of Jerusalem; it was later condemned by the prophet Jeremiah as a place of pagan worship.

Gehenna later was used as a rubbish dump where fires perpetually burned: it was the 'Smokey Mountain' of its day.

The idea of hell belongs to apocalyptic writing, which is concerned with the end of the world and divine judgment. It represents, in symbolic terms, the opposite of eternal life with God.

We may believe in hell: we do not have to believe that there is anyone in it.

SAY

They are my Christian sisters and brothers.

DO

As you travel around, notice the various churches. Think positively about the faith and commitment of the people who worship there, and pray for them.

REFLECT

One of the most positive religious developments of the second half of the 20th century was the growth of the ecumenical movement. Christian bodies which had viewed each other with suspicion and hostility began cautiously to talk to one another and discover what they have in common rather than what divides them. One of the most significant and dramatic gestures in this area came from Pope Paul VI. In 1966 there occurred the first official visit by an Archbishop of Canterbury since 1397 in the person of Dr Michael Ramsey. While archbishop of Milan, Paul had taken trouble to learn about the Anglican Church which he later called "our beloved sister". After the final service at the Basilica of St Paul Outside-The-Walls, the pope took off the ring he had worn as archbishop and put it on Ramsey's finger. Jesus said that no one who performs a work in his name is likely to speak ill of him. Maybe that is a lesson on which we might all reflect. ■
