

1. THE SOLEMN ENTRANCEANTIPHON

Hosanna to the Son of David;
blest is he who comes in the name of the Lord, the King of Israel.
Hosanna in the highest.

2. THE SIMPLE ENTRANCEENTRANCE ANTIPHON

Six days before the Passover, when the Lord came into the city of Jerusalem,
 the children ran to meet him;
 in their hands they carried palm branches
 and with a loud voice cried out:
 *Hosanna in the highest!
 Blessed are you, who have come in your
 abundant mercy!

O gates, lift high your heads;
 grow higher, ancient doors.
 Let him enter, the king of glory!
 Who is this king of glory?
 He, the Lord of hosts, he is the king of glory.
 *Hosanna in the highest!
 Blessed are you, who have come in your
 abundant mercy!

COLLECT

Almighty ever-living God, who as an example of humility for the human race to follow
 caused our Saviour to take flesh and submit to the Cross,
 graciously grant that we may heed his lesson
 of patient suffering
 and so merit a share in his Resurrection.
 Who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
 one God, for ever and ever.
Amen.

FIRST READING

Is 50:4-7

A reading from the prophet Isaiah.
 The Lord has given me
 a disciple's tongue.
 So that I may know how to reply to the wearied,
 he provides me with speech.
 Each morning he wakes me to hear,
 to listen like a disciple.
 The Lord has opened my ear.
 For my part, I made no resistance,
 neither did I turn away.
 I offered my back to those who struck me,
 my cheeks to those who tore at my beard;
 I did not cover my face
 against insult and spittle.
 The Lord comes to my help,
 so that I am untouched by the insults.
 So, too, I set my face like flint;
 I know I shall not be shamed.
 The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

PSALM

Ps 21

Response:

My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

1. All who see me deride me.
 They curl their lips, they toss their heads.
 "He trusted in the Lord, let him save him;
 let him release him if this is his friend."
 (R.)
2. Many dogs have surrounded me,
 a band of the wicked beset me.

They tear holes in my hands and my feet.
 I can count every one of my bones. (R.)

3. They divide my clothing among them.
 They cast lots for my robe.
 O Lord, do not leave me alone,
 my strength, make haste to help me! (R.)
4. I will tell of your name to my brethren and praise you where they are assembled.
 "You who fear the Lord give him praise;
 all sons of Jacob, give him glory.
 Revere him, Israel's sons." (R.)

SECOND READING

Phil 2:6-11

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Philippians.

His state was divine,
 yet Christ Jesus did not cling to his equality with God
 but emptied himself
 to assume the condition of a slave,
 and became as men are,
 and being as all men are,
 he was humbler yet,
 even to accepting death,
 death on a cross.
 But God raised him high
 and gave him the name which is above all other names
 so that all beings
 in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld,
 should bend the knee at the name of Jesus
 and that every tongue should acclaim
 Jesus Christ as Lord,
 to the glory of God the Father.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Praise to you, O Christ, King of eternal glory!
Christ was humbler yet,
even to accepting death, death on a cross.
But God raised him high
and gave him the name which is above all names.
Praise to you, O Christ, King of eternal glory!

GOSPEL

Mk 14:1-15:47

The Passion of Our Lord Jesus Christ
 according to Mark.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.
I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made, consubstantial with
the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven, (all bow during the next three lines)
and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.
For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,

and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory
to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord,
the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored
and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.

I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins

and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead
and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OFFERINGS

Through the Passion of your Only Begotten Son, O Lord,
 may our reconciliation with you be near at hand,
 so that, though we do not merit it by our own deeds,
 yet by this sacrifice made once for all,
 we may feel already the effects of your mercy.
 Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

Father, if this chalice cannot pass without my drinking it,
your will be done.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

Nourished with these sacred gifts,
 we humbly beseech you, O Lord,
 that, just as through the death of your Son you have brought us to hope for what we believe,
 so by his Resurrection
 you may lead us to where you call.
 Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Lent is like a long 'retreat' during which we can turn back into ourselves and listen to the voice of God, in order to defeat the temptations of the Evil One. It is a period of spiritual 'combat' which we must experience alongside Jesus, not with pride and presumption, but using the arms of faith: prayer, listening to the word of God and penance. In this way we will be able to celebrate Easter in truth, ready to renew the promises of our Baptism.

PALM SUNDAY OF THE LORD'S PASSION

THE WORD

Year B • Season Colour: Red • Psalter Week 2

A DARK TIME

(MARK 14:1-15:47)

The Gospel of Mark has been described as “a Passion Narrative with a long introduction”. The cross casts its shadow over this account of Jesus’ life and ministry.

At the beginning of the story, we hear of the violent treatment and unjust execution of John the Baptist and the growing hostility towards Jesus, which reaches its climax in the plot of the religious and political leaders to do away with him. Jesus predicts his death three times, but the disciples do not understand. Discipleship is presented as taking up the cross and following Jesus, later illustrated by Simon of Cyrene.

It is a feature of Mark’s Gospel that no one understands who Jesus really is. Jesus does not accept Peter’s confession that he is the Christ, as this is, presumably, founded on Jesus performing miracles. This is corrected at once by the first prediction of the Passion. One of Jesus’ inner circle arranges to hand him over to the hostile religious authorities. Jesus accepts his fate as the fulfilment of the Scriptures after his struggle in Gethsemane, during which he receives no answer from God.

A distinctive feature of Mark’s account is the mention of the young man who “follows at a distance” and runs off naked when Jesus is arrested and all his disciples abandon him. This would-be disciple does not give up everything to follow Jesus, but rather leaves everything behind in order to escape.

Mark’s depiction of the crucifixion is unremittably bleak: there is no hint of sympathy from any quarter. Even those crucified with him taunt him along with the passers-by. Jesus is abandoned by everyone – including, it seems, by God. His cry from the cross is one of despair. But at the moment of his death comes God’s answer, the tearing of the Temple veil which separated the divine presence from the people. Now Jesus will be the focus of God’s presence for Jew and Gentile. It is at this point, when there can be no further misunderstanding, that the Gentile centurion accurately proclaims Jesus as “the Son of God”. It is the cross, not the miracles, which reveals Jesus’ true identity. ■

SAY

My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

(Mark 15:34/Psalm 22:1)

LEARN

Mark’s presentation of the Passion of Jesus is very bleak, suggesting that Jesus is totally abandoned and has to suffer alone.

The cross dominates the Gospel according to Mark.

Each evangelist has his own understanding of who Jesus is: we should read each account according to the appropriate point of view.

REFLECT

We must read each gospel version according to the viewpoint of the individual evangelist. We may find the idea of Jesus apparently despairing on the cross uncomfortable, but that is precisely the reason why we should think about it more deeply. If we believe that Jesus was truly human, we should read Mark’s account without importing elements from the other evangelists which soften the picture. Mark tells us that Jesus experienced being totally abandoned, which may well help some of us who feel that way; that, in Jesus, God has experienced this feeling and so can understand our situation.

We notice that Mark mentions the women from Galilee who witness the crucifixion and includes by name Mary Magdalene as they observe where Jesus is buried. This prepares the way for the events of Easter morning. The cross and Calvary are not the end of Jesus’ story. ■

DO

Take your palm in your hand. Reflect on the change in the attitude of the crowd from Jesus’ entry into Jerusalem and their calling for his death a few days later. Do you see a similar manipulation of people today?
